FOUR SEASONS RESORT BALI

SAYAN

UBUD

A quiet retreat above the Ayung River

BY XAVIER BRUNELLE

WELCOME TO SAYAN

A resort held by the jungle

Four Seasons Resort Bali at Sayan sits just outside Ubud, surrounded by dense tropical forest and the Ayung River below. Villas and suites are spread across the hillside, linked by walking paths and resort buggies available for transfers among rooms, reception, restaurants, spa and the main facilities.

The atmosphere is peaceful: rice fields, palms, flowing water and deep valley views. The resort is designed less like a building placed in the landscape and more like a retreat absorbed by it.

AYUNG TERRACE

Indonesian and Balinese cuisine with panoramic jungle views.

RIVERSIDE

A relaxed riverside setting with Mediterranean-inspired dishes.

GETTING AROUND

Ubud practical information

COMPLIMENTARY SHUTTLE

From the resort: 1:00 PM, 3:00 PM and 5:00 PM

TAXIS IN TOWN

Taxis are commonly found on shopping streets and near Ubud Palace and Monkey Forest Road. Agree on the fare before boarding. The guide notes a maximum fare of 150,000 IDR, payable in cash.

USEFUL DESTINATION

The shuttle stop is Museum Puri Lukisan on Jalan Raya Ubud - a convenient starting point for central Ubud.

SLOW DOWN

Spa, breakfast and sunset

Breakfast is served a la carte with a buffet selection of pastries, fruit, juices and lighter choices.

The spa draws on the energy of water and Balinese healing traditions, making it an especially fitting place to pause during the Ubud stay.

Jati Bar is the resort's open-air jungle lounge overlooking the Ayung River valley. It is a beautiful choice for sunset cocktails or afternoon tea.

DO NOT MISS

A traditional dance is offered on Sunday evening at approximately 6:30 PM. Time is subject to change; confirm with the resort.

BEST APPROACH

Leave room in the schedule simply to listen to the river and enjoy the forest canopy.
